THE PARNELL CASE.

Le Caron Continues Giving His Testimony.

HE IMPLICATES AMERICANS.

Some Important Documents to be Introduced in the Case—The Sympathy of Americans.

LONDON, February 8.—The cross-examination of LeCaron was continued before the Parnell commission to-day. The court room was overcrowded. Parnell was not present. LeCaron said that during the last fortnight he had got the documents relative to the case from Anderson, an official of the home office, who, at his private residence, allowed the witness to see the whole of the latter's past correspondence with the home office. During the first three years of his service as a spy he received no payment from government. At present he is receiving only a part of his pay. LeCaron said he practiced medicine and kept a drug store, and had become rich. He had held a high military office in the brotherhood, but never an executive office. Bradley, of Philadelphia, was now at the head of the executive. The brotherhood, which in 1885, numbered 22,000 members, is now higher than ever, and increasing. The suppression of the league and arrest of Irish members of the House of Commons gave an impetus to the organization. The league and brotherhood sent subscriptions to the league in Ireland. The brotherhood tried to control the subscriptions intended for the league. The brotherhood finally captured and controlled the league.

IMPORTANT LETTERS.

Sir Charles Russell asked that the letters to government be produced.

Witness asked: "Do you wish to risk the men's lives?"

Sir Charles replied: "The judges will see the letters first, and they will decide whether the names shall be published."

Witness said on the occasion of Parnell's only public visit to America, in 1880, to witness own knowledge, in the west the demonstrations were exclusively, and in the east, mainly in the hands of the revolutionary party. Members of Congress were connected with the revolutionary party.

"Would it be correct to say Parnell's reception showed he had the sympathy of the Americans as well as of the Irish?" said Sir Charles Russell.

"It would," responded the witness.

Sir Charles asked to be permitted to inspect the documents sent by the witness under cover.

Sir Henry James and Mr. Reid, in the interest of the third parties, opposed the application.

The court decided Sir Charles Russell, for the Parnells, and Sir Henry James, for the Times, should consult together as to which documents might be inspected. Adjourned.

A Quiet Canadian Home.

NEW YORK, February 8.—A. S. Gookin, cashier of the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company, deserted his post Monday or Tuesday of this week, and it is thought he has sought a quiet home in Canada. The company loses about $70,000 by Gookin's departure. It is said, but the officials profess ignorance of any positive knowledge on this point, that Gookin kept four different payrolls and the method he employed to swindle the company was crediting sums of money to the names of fictitious persons represented on the books as employees. The greatest reticence is observed by all officials of the road.

Raiding an Opium Joint.

HELENA, Mont., February 8.—Wednesday night at Phillipsburg, Deputy Sheriff Opp and Fredgell raided the store of Him Lee, used by the Chinese as an opium joint. The Chinese ascertained that no warrant had been issued and attacked Fredgell with knives. He and Opp opened fire. Tom Hee was shot in the head and killed, and Him Lee and Al Lee seriously wounded.

A Fatal Runaway.

ST. LOUIS, February 8.—This afternoon, a fire engine going to a fire frightened the horse hitched to a wagon and Mr. Ward, the owner, was thrown from the wagon and fatally injured. Maggie Brown, aged 8 years, was run over and instantly killed. Charles Hall, Jr., and Miss Annie McGinnis were run over and seriously injured.

"Red-headed Mike's" Trial.

WILKESBARRE, February 8.—In the trial of "Red-headed Mike," the Italian charged with the murder of Paymaster McClure and his assistant, in the mountains, last summer, the testimony to-day was strongly against Mike. His confession to the police was read in the court, and sounded more like a dime novel than an actual occurrence in real life. The cold blooded details of the cold-blooded murder and robbery were revolting in the extremity. In Mike endeavored to throw the responsibility on Beverino, one of his companions, who has not yet been captured.

THAT SECRET ORDER.

The Illicit Capture of Seals Reported Winked At.

NEW YORK, February 8.—Special to the Post: The investigation before the House committee on marine and fisheries, relative to the orders given the commander of the United States revenue marine cutter Rush, last summer, is pretty certain to result in the revival of the agitation as to our jurisdiction over Behring Sea. It appears the captain of the Rush stated before the committee that he received a secret order from the Treasury Department relative to the seizure of British or other vessels in those waters, the nature of which he did not care to communicate, and referred the committee to the Treasury Department for information. The committee called at the Treasury Department for the order, but have not yet obtained a reply. A movement has been begun in the House to call upon the Treasury Department for a copy of the order. From other sources it has been ascertained that the order was to the effect that while the vessel was to continue its original cruise in Alaskan waters, ostensibly for the purpose of preventing the illicit capture of seals,

NO SEIZURE SHOULD BE MADE

of either British or American vessels last season. It is also stated that the British minister had been privately informed that no seizures would be made. The information was circulated privately also in Canada, as a result of which a large number of Canadian sealers made a profitable catch of seals in Behring Sea last season. It has also been stated that even a larger number of Canadian vessels will fit out the coming season for similar expeditions. A suggestion has been made that government did not desire to have any side issue raised pending negotiations connected with the fishery treaty, and this secret order to the commander of the British was part of the policy by which it was hoped to avoid unnecessary trouble. The Treasury Department has called upon the commander of the Rush for the return to that department of this order, and the captain has returned it. It is said prominent Republicans in Congress, in both houses, are, however, in possession of information to the exact nature of this order, if they have not a copy of it, and that the action of the Treasury Department will be on the basis of reaching an inquiry in both houses.

Too Solid With the Old Man.

NEW YORK, February 8.—A. L. Hopkins, president of the Missouri Pacific, and nearer to Jay Gould than any other man, aside from his own son, George Gould, has severed all connection with Gould interests. One of the reasons assigned is that Gould is cutting down salaries, whereby he saves nearly $40,000 per week. He raised Hopkins' salary also. Another rumor says George Gould didn't want anybody so "solid with the old man," so froze Hopkins out.

A Little Previous.

ATLANTA, Ga., February 8.—The Banks County Guards have decided to offer their services to the federal government in the event of war over Samoa. The guards was one of the most notable companies in the late war.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., February 8.—Milwaukee special to the Evening Wisconsin: George Schissel, aged 30, fatally shot Ida Polter, a 17-year-old waitress in a hotel, and then blew out his brains. The girl refused to marry him.

Heaviest Storm Ever Known.

MONTREAL, February 8.—The present storm is the biggest ever known in this part of Canada. Traffic is practically at a standstill, passenger trains being snowed up from ten to thirty-six hours. No trains are running except to and from Chicago and New York. Seventeen hundred passengers were on these two trains.

Attached and Assigned.

WOOD HALL, Mass., February 8.—The works of the Pacific Guano Company here were attached yesterday. They have assigned. The liabilities are $300,000. Other concerns here and in Boston are expected to go down as a result.

Railway Employees and Politics.

MILWAUKEE, February 8.—A special from La Crosse says an effort will be made at that place to form a political organization of railway employees of Wisconsin. The object of the organization will be to advance the interests of railway employees, by voting for men for public offices who are in sympathy with railroad corporations. The association is intended to become national in its extent.

Weak Lungs Made Strong.

Persons who stay in doors all the time and lean over a counter or a desk sooner or later discover that their lungs are giving out. Erasmus R. Sutherland editor of The Eastern State Journal, White Plains, N. Y., writes:

"I have used ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER in my family since 1863. In that year I had an attack of pneumonia from which I was not expected to recover. My lungs were left in a very weak state. I commenced using ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER, wearing them constantly three months, two on the breast and two on the back. The result was surprising, at least to me. The pains in my lungs had left me, and I felt like a giant refreshed with new wine."

ONE WOMAN'S WONT.

Mrs. Cave Said She Wouldn't, But She Did.

OTHER DISTRICT BUSINESS.

Police Court Pickings—A Copper Colored Cooles in Trouble—Probate Doings.

Among the witnesses before the grand jury yesterday, was a woman by the name of Mary Cave, who resides at Sandy, and who, it is understood, was a witness against Thomas Allsopp, who is charged with adultery. She was sworn and testified for a short time, but when a certain question was propounded to her she refused to answer, and all the persuasive powers of Ogden Hills failed to move her. The result was she was reported to the court, and so-called in the afternoon was named as the hour for hearing the case. Soon after that time Foreman McCormick and his fourteen aides polkaed down the aisle and took seats in the jury box.

Bailiff Sprague, who now has a brand new proclamation, sang out, with his usual dignity and composure: "Hear ye! hear ye! This court is now open. All persons having business with the Third District Court, draw near and you shall be heard!"

Foreman McCormick stepped to the judge, handed him the papers in the case, and retired to the box. The judge glanced them over and called the witness to the stand. He said he saw no reason why such a question was not a proper one.

Hills asked that the witness be instructed to answer.

THE JUDGE—You have been called as a witness, Mrs. Cave, and have been asked some questions which you have answered, but there is another one that you refuse to answer. Now, I think it would be best for you to answer.

The witness replied that she was afraid the answer might tend to criminate herself; but that if she were promised that it would not, she would answer.

THE JUDGE—We can't make any bargains or promises. But the law in the case is such that anything you may say to the grand jurors cannot be used against you in future action.

Hills explained that he had so informed the witness before she left the jury room.

THE JUDGE—I think you had better retire and answer.

Mrs. Cave finally decided that she would furnish what information was in her power, and sailed out, escorted by the inquisitors.

A Restaurant Fight—A Chinaman Assaults a Little Girl.

Judge Pyper had only two cases before him yesterday:

John Paul pleaded guilty to a charge of battery upon Joseph Ward and was fined $20. Paul went into the Elite restaurant night before last and when his order was served he began to kick about something. ## Long-Standing Blood Diseases are cured by the persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

This medicine is an Alternative, and causes a radical change in the system. The process, in some cases, may not be quite so rapid as in others; but, with persistence, the result is certain. Read these testimonials:—

"For two years I suffered from a severe pain in my right side, and had other troubles caused by a torpid liver and dyspepsia. After giving several medicines a fair trial without a cure, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was greatly benefited by the first bottle, and after taking five bottles I was completely cured."—John W. Benson, 70 Lawrence st., Lowell, Mass.

Last May a large carbuncle broke out on my arm. The usual remedies had no effect and I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Less than three bottles healed the sore. In all my experience with medicine, I never saw more

Wonderful Results.

Another marked effect of the use of this medicine was the strengthening of my sight."—Mrs. Carrie Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

"I had a dry scaly humor for years, and suffered terribly; and, as my brother and sister were similarly afflicted, I presume the malady is hereditary. Last winter, Dr. Tyson, of Pennsylvania, Fla., recommended me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continue it for a year. For five months I took it daily. I have not had a blemish upon my body for the last three months."—T. E. Wiley, 146 Chambers st., New York City.

"Last fall and winter I was troubled with a dull, heavy pain in my side. I did not notice it much at first, but it gradually grew worse until it became almost unbearable. During the latter part of this time, disorders of the stomach and liver increased my troubles. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after faithfully continuing the use of this medicine for some months, the pain disappeared and I was completely cured."—Mrs. Augusta A. Furbush, Haverhill, Mass.
